Title: Assembly Series Collection.

Dates: 2000 – 2008.

Quantity: 30.0 linear feet.

Language: English.

Historical Note

For a half century, the Washington University Assembly Series has brought some of the most important voices in contemporary society to campus. The lectures, which represent a broad range of topics designed to complement the University's curriculum, are free and open to the public.

Support for the lecture series comes from Student Union and the University, as well as from other student groups, academic departments, and schools.

Scope and Content Notes

This finding aid describes Assembly Series recordings from one decade. Items are listed by ASL number (Assembly Series Lecture), then by speaker name, and lecture title. Physical format is noted in brackets.

Additional decades are described in separate finding aids.

Arrangement

The collection is arranged chronologically.

Administrative Information

Source of Collection

Assembly Series staff from the Office of Public Affairs transferred the recordings to University Archives each semester.

Accruals

Accruals are interfiled with the collection.
